

Dr. Theodore Heisig, Retired Minister, Dies

Special to The News.

BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 7. — Dr. Theodore Heisig, widely known retired Baptist minister, died suddenly Thursday morning at the Baptist sanitarium in Houston, where he had gone for examination. He had been in failing health for some time.

Dr. Heisig was a graduate of Baylor University and attended the institution when it was located at Independence, Texas, in Washington County. Upon his graduation he was ordained a Baptist minister and was immediately given a pastorate. He has been the pastor of Baptist churches throughout the North and South and at one time held an important pastorate in New York City.

Surviving are his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Alan McLane of Lake Charles, and one son, Theodore Heisig Jr., of Houston; and three brothers, Charles T. Heisig of Beaumont; Dr. E. S. Heisig of Houston, and P. A. Heisig of Los Angeles.
